

- I. Historical Background of Normandy
  - A. Origins of Normandy and etymology of name
  - B. 912 pact between Rollo and Charles the Simple
  - C. Adaptability of Scandinavians

- II. Events Leading up to the Battle of Hastings
  - A. Danish line of Cnut dies out in 1042
  - B. Edward restored to throne
  - C. Edward dies childless
  - D. Harold, son of Godwin, is elected King of England
  - E. William's claim to the throne

- III. The Battle of Hastings
  - A. Harold fights King of Norway
  - B. Harold's and William's battle strategies
  - C. Harold's death
  - D. Depiction in Bayeux Tapestry
  - E. William takes England by force

- IV. Effects on the English Language
  - A. Attitude towards English
    - 1. a matter of social distinction
    - 2. the fate of England at William's death
    - 3. division of England with William's successors and continued foreign influence
    - 4. attitude of indifference for church and nobility
    - 5. ultimate fusion
    - 6. French as language of court; English as language of masses

- V. Is Middle English a creole?

Back to Top

Chapter Six: The Reestablishment of English

- I. The loss of Normandy in 1204
  - A. King John Lackland angers King Phillip of France
  - B. King John loses title as Duke of Normandy

- II. Repurcussions for aristocrats with landholdings in England and France
  - A. voluntary relinquishment and divisions as two options
  - B. King Louis' decree of 1244
  - C. consequences: after 1250, nobility of England consider themselves "English"

- III. Continued French influence:
  - A. under King John
  - B. three waves under Henry III
    - 1. under Peter des Roches

2. Henry III's marriage to Eleanor of Provence
3. death of Henry III's mother

IV. English reaction to foreigners:

- A. resentment
- B. patriotism
  1. Huber de Burgh's policy
  2. Bishop Grossteste and the church's new attitude
- C. Provisions of Oxford (1258) and Baron's War (1258-65)
- D. pride in English language reemerges under Edward I

V. The Thirteenth Century:

- A. Shifting emphasis of French and English
- B. French becomes cultivated tongue:
  1. used in law courts and parliaments
  2. used by educated and in universities
  3. used by polite society as second language
- C. many French words enter the language during this time

VI. The Fourteenth Century:

French is in decline because

- A. Anglo-French is seen as inferior
- B. the Hundred Year's War
- C. Rise of the Middle Class
  1. the Black Death
  2. the Peasant's Revolt
  3. rise of the bourgeois class

V. General Adoption of English

- A. Statute of Pleading-- 1362
- B. English in schools
- C. English as choice in writing

VI. Periods of Literature

- A. 1150-1250: Period of Religious Record
- B. 1250- 1350: Period of Religious and Secular Literature
- C. 1350-1400: Period of Great Individual Writers
- D. 15th Century: Imitative

Back to Top

Chapter Seven: Middle English

I. Leveling of Inflections

II. Effects of the Norman Conquest

- A. Grammatical: the Conquest allows the language to evolve as spoken by the lower classes.
- B. Vocabulary
  1. prior to 1250: reflects lower class in contact with ruling Norman

aristocracy and clergy

2. after 1250: much borrowing as French speakers learn English

3. 15th century borrowings: primarily literary as French becomes a "foreign" language

C. Why doesn't modern English more closely resemble French?

D. The Infiltration of French Words into English

1. assimilation

2. duplication

3. methods of Old English word formation in decline

III. Latin Influence of the Third Period

A. the Norman Conquest

B. direct borrowings

C. aureate terms

D. synonyms at three levels

IV. Influence from the Low Countries

V. Middle English Dialects

A. four principal dialects

B. rise of Standard English

1. location

2. population

3. Oxford and Cambridge

4. importance of London English

5. Caxton

Return to

---